

Xiaowen Fu

Department of Industrial and Systems Engineering
The Hong Kong Polytechnic University

Dr. Xiaowen Fu is a Professor in Engineering Management in the Department of Industrial and Systems Engineering, the Hong Kong Polytechnic University. His main research area is transport economics and management, which cover issues such as competition policy and government regulation, international aviation liberalization, efficiency benchmarking, transport demand modelling and industrial organization. He has been the principal investigator of close to 20 research grants, the guest editor of 6 journal special issues, and the author of 70 journal articles. He is an editor of the journal of Transport Policy, associate editor of the book series “Advances in Airlines Economics”. Dr. Fu has provided advisory and economic modeling services to organizations such as the Boeing Commercial Aircraft, New Zealand Commerce Commission, Australian Competition and Consumer Commission, Government of British Columbia in Canada, Australian Competition Tribunal, Hong Kong Civil Aviation Department, Hong Kong Transport and Housing Bureau, Japan Rail (East), and OECD. He is the director of the Knowledge Management and Innovation Research Center, Vice President (Research) of the Air Transport Research Society (ATRS), Vice President (Research) of the Institute for Aviation (UK), founding chair of the Maritime Economy and Policy stream of the World Transport Convention, and an honorary professor of the University of Sydney Business School.

